

Finding the Barts Pathology Museum

Barts Pathology Museum, 3rd Floor Robin Brook Centre, St Bartholomew's Hospital, EC1A 7BE

It's not easy to find if you have not been to the museum before.

Below are the directions with some helpful photos and other information provided by host Donald Wu:

1. Enter the St Bartholomew's Hospital from the Smithfield Market end of Giltspur Street.

2. Go straight through the second entrance. Please note St Bartholomew's Hospital Museum by the second entrance is not the museum we have the meeting.

3. After the second entrance, you are in the court yard of the hospital.

4. Turn right and walk straight to the end toward the QMUL building

5. You will see the sign of Robin Brook Centre.

6. The museum entry is the black door on the right (photo 6).

The museum is on the 3rd floor. If you want to take the lift, go into the passage under the building and the lift is on the right.

Closest underground stations are Farringdon, Barbican or St Paul's

Closest Train station is City Thameslink (North entrance)

Donald will be there about 9:45am to ask my colleague to open the door.
