GDPR

Licensor and Licensee agree the following:

Each will comply with GDPR which means the General Data Protection Regulation (EU 2016/679) and any legislation or regulation which amends or replaces it. Performance of this Licence Agreement requires each party to process contact details for the other party's personnel. Each party is the controller of the Personal Data (as defined by GDPR) relating to its own personnel and both are processors of Personal Data relating to the other party's personnel. Therefore, each party will:

1. only use such Personal Data for the purposes of this Agreement;
2. take appropriate measures to ensure the security of the Personal Data that they process;
3. ensure that its personnel who process Personal Data are subject to a duty of confidence;
4. ensure that no third-party processes any Personal Data received from the other party except in accordance with GDPR requirements and with the consent of the other party;
5. cooperate with the other party with their rights and obligations as data controllers, including assistance with: obligations in connection with subject access requests and other data subject rights under GDPR; controller's responsibilities concerning the security of processing, data breaches and data protection impact assessments; and reporting, inspection and audit requirements;
6. notify the other party:
 - (a) immediately if they believe any instructions or requirements of the other party would infringe GDPR;
 - (b) without undue delay and not later than seventy-two (72) hours after they believe a GDPR breach has occurred or is likely to occur under this Licence Agreement;
 - (c) without undue delay and not later than seventy-two (72) hours after receiving any subject access request from the other party's personnel relating to Personal Data under this Agreement;
7. only retain Personal Data after the end of this Agreement if there is a statutory basis to do so or as specified in its own published privacy policy, provided such privacy policy complies with GDPR requirements. Each party will also delete Personal Data upon request of the other party unless there is a statutory basis to retain it or some other lawful reason, independent of this Agreement, allows the party to retain the Personal Data.
